

European Academy of Religion

INFORMATION ON THE PROCESSING OF PERSONAL DATA UNDER ART. 13 EUROPEAN REGULATION 2016/679 (GDPR)

Dear Participant,

Under the aforementioned EU Regulation that deals with the protection of personal data of natural persons (and any subsequent amendments and additions) also called GDPR (General Data Protection Regulation), we would like to inform you that your personal data provided to our Association or otherwise acquired in the course of our activity, will be processed in full compliance with the aforementioned regulation, the confidentiality obligations that inspire the activity of our Association and the principles of lawfulness, fairness and transparency, guaranteeing the full exercise of your rights as a "data subject", that is, the subject to which the personal data refers.

The data will be processed by the European Academy of Religion (EuARe) as data controller according to the purposes and methods indicated below.

1. Data Controller

The data controller is:

- European Academy of Religion (EuARe), Via San Vitale 114, 40125, Bologna, +39051239532, euare.bo@gmail.com, www.europeanacademyofreligion.org.

2. Purpose of data processing

Your personal data may be processed by the data controller for your participation in the annual conferences organized by the Association:

- a) registration for the event, including any other event related to the current conference;
- b) communications, both in paper and electronic format, including telephone contact, regarding your participation in the event;
- c) publication of images and videos of the event, for organizational purposes, communication and promotion of the event;
- d) transmission of promotional and informative communications, in electronic format, relating to the activities of the Association and to the organization of the annual conferences of EuARe;

European Academy of Religion

- e) analysis and research for internal statistical purposes through manual and automated processing. This type of processing does not involve the use of personal information and is carried out only anonymously.

3. Types of processed data

The data controller collects the data as well as the personal and economic information relating to your person classified as:

- a) personal data and contact details, including address and residence data;
- b) information relating to academic qualifications, professional experience, Organization or Institution of affiliation;
- c) accounting, administrative and tax data necessary for the invoicing covered by the contract, data necessary for bureaucratic obligations, tax data necessary to comply with legal obligations;
- d) data related to the audio and video images or recordings of the events in which you will participate.

4. Nature of data provision

The processing of personal data concerning the indicated purposes, in compliance with the law and the confidentiality obligations that have always inspired the activity of the data controller, takes place through manual, IT and telematic tools and is strictly related to the purposes themselves, guaranteeing the security and confidentiality of the data. The data controller and the external data processors, appointed by our Association, will implement technical and organizational measures at a level appropriate to the risk.

The processing of data by the data controller for the above-mentioned purposes a) and b) of proper management of your registration is based on the fulfilment of contractual obligations. The legal basis for point (c) shall be identified in the legitimate interest of the controller to sponsor scientific research and the organized Conference. The legal basis for point (d) is the legitimate interest as defined by the e-privacy directive on electronic communication. The legal basis for point (e) is the legitimate interest of the data controller.

5. Sharing and communicating personal data

Without prejudice to the disclosure and communication of data necessary for the performance of legal obligations, all data collected and processed may be communicated by the data controller, always and exclusively within the scope of the purposes described above, to:

European Academy of Religion

- a) institutions, professionals, companies or other structures entrusted by us with the processing related to the fulfilment of administrative, accounting and management obligations linked to the ordinary performance of our economic activity, also for credit recovery purposes;
- b) public authorities and administrations for the purposes related to the fulfilment of legal obligations or to persons entitled to access them by provisions of law, regulations, Community regulations;
- c) organizations, public and private entities operating in the field of scientific research with which the data controller establishes partnerships to achieve the purposes outlined in the Association's Statute;
- d) banks, financial institutions or other entities to whom the transfer of the aforementioned data is necessary for the performance of the business of our company concerning the fulfilment of our contractual obligations towards you;
- e) suppliers of services, assistance and maintenance of computer and telematic systems and all functionally connected services necessary for the performance of the services covered by the contract.

The list of external data processors is available upon request.

6. Retention times for personal data

In compliance with Italian and Community legislation on data protection and according to art. 2220 of the Italian Civil Code, personal data acquired both during and after the provision of the service, are kept by the data controller for 10 years, starting from the date of the last participation to the EuARE conferences.

7. Data subject's rights

Concerning the aforementioned processing, you, as a data subject, may exercise the rights referred to in Articles 15 to 22 of EU Regulation 27/4/2016, no. 679.

You have the right to obtain from the data controller the erasure (Right to be forgotten), limitation, updating, rectification, portability, opposition to the processing of personal data concerning you, and, in general, you can exercise all the rights provided for in Articles 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22 of EU Regulation no. 2016/679 (GDPR).

DATA SUBJECT'S RIGHTS EXTRACT REG. EU 2016/679

The data subject has the right to obtain confirmation from the data controller whether or not personal data concerning him/her are being processed and, in this case, to obtain access to personal data and the following information:

- a) purposes of the processing;
- b) categories of personal data concerned;

European Academy of Religion

- c) recipients or categories of recipients to whom the personal data has been or will be disclosed, in particular, if recipients are based in third countries or are international organizations;
- d) where possible, the intended period of retention of personal data or, if this is not possible, the criteria used to determine that period.

The interested party has:

- a) the right to complaint to a supervisory authority and the Data Protection Supervisor, following the procedures and indications published on the Authority's official website: www.garanteprivacy.it;
- b) when the data are not collected from the data subject, the right to obtain all available information on their origin;
- c) the right to become aware of the existence of an automated decision-making process, including profiling, and significant information on the logic used, as well as the importance and expected consequences of such processing for the data subject.

Any corrections or deletions or limitations to the data processing made at the request of the data subject - unless this proves impossible or involves a disproportionate effort - will be communicated by the data controller to each of the recipients to whom the personal data have been transmitted.

The exercise of rights shall not be subject to any formal constraint and shall be free of charge.

This information notice may be supplemented, orally or in writing, with further elements and indications, to better meet any information requirements regarding the protection of personal data and to comply with regulatory developments.